Star Trek - Blueprint

Update: June 27, 2020 ---After the fantastic response to the rescanned blueprints of the U.S.S. Saladin that were posted last week, I've decided to go back to where it all began and rescan the blueprints of the one and original Star Trek Blueprints by Franz Joseph. These classic prints have been scanned at 400dpi and then carefully edited to remove artifacting, creases, and other abnormalities ...

I've been playing for a while, maybe 6 months and I still haven't completed that mission. I am not buying the USS Franklin blueprints. Especially after the criticism I heard about it. But they did have it in the last Borg event (for sale). You will have to wait for the next event that has it and there is no telling what event may have it. Some events do have the blueprints some don't.
